JANINE'S ARTISTRY SPA

BY JANINE DIOMAMPO

janineartistry.com/book-now-1
@janinesartistry

Janine Diomampo began her career as a makeup artist in 2015 and became well-versed in how ingredients affect the skin. This inspired her to pursue a career in skincare. In 2016, she became a licensed cosmetologist and advanced esthetician. Later, she combined her passion for makeup and skincare by opening a spa called Janine's Artistry in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Since then, Janine has taken advanced esthetic classes to expand her skincare knowledge. She specializes in various facial treatments and has even invented her own facial brushes. Most of the brushes she came across were thin, flimsy and had bristles that easily fell off. She decided to create her own brushes that are fluffy, gentle on the skin and have short handles for better control during the two-brush technique. These brushes can be purchased at janinesartistry.com.

 @elevatedbeautyesthetics

Emily Fouts has been in the industry since 2014 and has done it all, from medical aesthetics to day spas.

After seeing different approaches to skincare and self-care, she decided to open Elevated Beauty Esthetics in 2022 to offer her clients what she considers the perfect balance of results-driven skincare and a space of wellness and relaxation.

To Emily, self-care is more than just skin deep. It is a stepping stone for people to enter into their best selves. One of her favorite forms of self-care is performing skincare rituals, which got her into gua sha stones. She custom-designed the Self-Care Baby Gua Sha Stone to introduce a new way for people to nurture their bodies. Used in the treatment room and at home, this stone helps to relieve muscle tension and aid in lymphatic drainage.
